

Attention Aspiring Chefs!

The Beard House of Fellows Program Presented by Capital One!

The James Beard Foundation (JBF) is a nonprofit organization dedicated to celebrating, supporting, and elevating the individuals behind America's food culture. Its mission champions excellence in food rooted in talent, equity, and sustainability.

Launched in May 2021, the Beard House Fellows Program presented by Capital One reimagines the historic James Beard House as a dynamic hub for training and professional development for talented, emerging chefs.

Program highlights include:

- Financial and small business guidance provided by Capital One
- Legal advisory support
- Media training and personal branding development with publicist Valerie Wilson
- Social media training with the Talented Tenth Collective
- Food policy and advocacy training led by the JBF Programs team
- Leadership assessment and professional development training

Learn more about the program here: <https://archive.jamesbeard.org/beard-house-fellows>

For additional information, interested individuals may contact beardhousefellows@jamesbeard.org. This information is shared for informational purposes only.